

What Are Common Terms Associated with Neuropathy?

by NEWLIFEOUTLOOK TEAM

Frequent Terms Linked to Neuropathy

How others understand your pain will determine whether they support you, ignore you, or accuse you. With neuropathy or chronic pain, everyone who cares about you should support you. So, having a network of words that are related to the condition can help you illustrate what you're going through. It also helps to provide a relatable feeling, such as "I have a burning sensation in my hand as if I just placed it on a stove" or "it feels like I'm walking on broken glass." These phrases can help someone who is unsympathetic to your pain realize the pretty severe pain you're going through. Both are something that you have each experienced and so can be imagined.

risk factors HELPLESS
paralyzing shingles pain motor UNRELENTING peripheral nerves side effects END NEUROPATHY cold complication imbalance pins and needles regeneration research nerve damage cures tingling struggle prevention caregiver proactivism unsupported FIGHT BACK overwhelming shooting pain chronic disability TORTURE debilitating education sleep-deprived children career-ending loss autoimmune diabetic IDIOPATHIC disease PAIN awareness anger disabbling falls invisible healing 24/7/365 caring 20 million FIRE BE HEARD vulnerable treatments nerve coping NEUROPATHY HELP advocacy ice picks electrical shocks weakness adapting discouraged epidemic lonely 1 in 15 BURDEN crippling resources quality of life never give up adults unimaginable isolating early diagnosis numbness stigma neuropathic marbles sensory Lyme disease misdiagnosed hurt hope AGONIZING broken glass GO AWAY empathy chemo-feet family support frost bites disbelief stabbing pain listen incapacitating autonomic life-changing hereditary nerve pain excruciatingly painful www.neuropathy.org